

Olha Tsyhanok is Professor of Linguistic and Literary Studies, Latin and German language at the Department of Philology and Translation of Kyiv National State University of Trade and Economics (Ukraine). She received her PhD in Philology from Taras Shevchenko Institute of Literature, National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine, in 1994, and her Doctor of Sciences (hab.) degree in Philology from Kyiv National Taras Shevchenko University in 2014. Her research focuses on Neo-Latin Ukrainian Literature (16th-18th centuries), Ukrainian literature of the 17th and 18th centuries in the European context, and on textual traditions. She is also a translator from Latin and author of articles and monographs on the topics of her research.